

Why are there sometimes big black holes (shadows) in the depth image of a stereo vision system (Kinect)?

Seen by the camera but no pattern visible = no depth information

